It was about 18 years ago, back when I was living in a one-bedroom apartment in a certain part of Tokyo. I had woken in the middle of the night, hearing sounds in the kitchen. When I lifted my head to look toward the kitchen door, I saw two whitish, leglike objects through the frosted glass. They were stomping around my narrow kitchen. I froze in fear for an instant, but then lowered my head back onto my pillow, quietly so that they wouldn't realize I was awake. I then closed my eyes and pretended to be asleep. It got quiet after a little while, so I cautiously checked...and they were still in my kitchen, standing at attention. I was wide-awake now, but so scared that I couldn't leave my bed. I couldn't do anything, so I went back to sleep, and when I came to it was morning. Had I just been really tired? Had it all been just a dream? All I think now is that I'm glad it wasn't human. I'm glad it had been just a harmless ghost.

I visited the outskirts of London in the beginning of spring. I strolled through the city where I'd spent a summer during my high school years, entering fondly remembered stores and walking through parks. About 20 years have passed since then, but I had a lot of fun. That was all fine and good, but London meals were so delicious that I regained 3 kg! Gah... I'm gonna follow Boruto's example, and put some effort into working out. The basics are important!

STORY

The Great Ninja War that shook the world and shed much blood is now history. Naruto has become the Seventh Hokage, and the people of Konohagakure Village are enjoying peace. Yet Naruto's son Uzumaki Boruto has a glum life, perhaps due to his father's too-great influence.

Rebelling against Naruto while simultaneously craving his praise, Boruto decides to enter the Chunin Exam along with his teammates Sarada and Mitsuki. However, Boruto ends up secretly using a prohibited Scientific Ninja Tool and is stripped of his shinobi status by his father.

Just then, members of the Ohtsutsuki Clan attack the arena! Boruto faces off against them alongside Naruto, Sasuke, and others, and they achieve victory with a Rasengan that father and son weave together. However, a strange mark appears on Boruto's right palm...

After defeating former Mist Ninja Ao, Boruto unexpectedly happens upon a young man named Kawaki who bears the same Karma mark as himself. He also happens to be the important Vessel that Kara has been rushing to retrieve.

In order to place Kawaki under Naruto's protection, he is moved into Boruto's home. The two clash, but then Kawaki offers to help Boruto learn more about the Karma mark!
